

Rest

Rest

In this sea of idleness I see nothing.

In this ocean of nothingness I am nothing.

In this material world I am more and more silent.

In this universe I am completely stupefied.

This splendor, this all, this beauty,

I am nothing and but rest in great awe.

I lay my self down and find rest in this,

next to you and You.

Almost all is done, nothing left,

but You.
